DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Due to the applicant's amendments to the claims, the previous rejections are rendered moot.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 16-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is not clear what is meant by "a control unit to control the motor and the pumping unit being simultaneously operated." If the control unit is simultaneously operated, it is not clear what device it is operated along with. If it operates the motor and pumping unit simultaneously, it should be claimed as so.
4. It is not clear what is meant by "a control unit to control the motor and the pumping unit being simultaneously stopped." If the control unit is simultaneously stopped, it is not clear what device it is stopped along with. If it stops the motor and pumping unit simultaneously, it should be claimed as so.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 16-18, 21-23 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kwon. Kwon discloses a washing machine with a water tub 60, a rotary tub 65, a motor 75, a pumping unit 73, and controlling unit with input (see figure 2, top of the machine). In addition to pump 73, Kwon shows a circulating pipe 70 and nozzle 74. The pumping unit is capable of being operated simultaneously with the motor (step S2). Moreover, they can be simultaneously stopped, such as at the end of the washing program. A water level sensor senses the water level in the tub (col. 5 lines 12-18). The use of the control unit and water level sensor is regarded as intended use. The manner in which an apparatus operates is not germane to the issue of patentability of the apparatus itself. Ex parte Wikdahl 10 USPQ 2d 1546, 1548 (BPAI 1989); Ex parte McCullough 7 USPQ 2d 1889, 1891 (BPAI 1988); In re Finsterwalder 168 USPQ 530 (CCPA 1971); In re Casey 152 USPQ 235, 238 (CCPA 1967). Furthermore, apparatus claims cover what a device is, not what a device does. Hewlett-Packard Co. v. Bausch & Lomb Inc. 15 USPQ 2d 1525 (Fed. Cir. 1990); Demaco Corp. v. F. Von Langsdorf Licensing Ltd. 7 USPQ 2d 1222, 1224-1225 (Fed. Cir. 1988).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1792

8. Claims 19-20 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kwon in view of Kim. Kim discloses a method for controlling a washing machine according to laundry characteristics, such as those based on type and fabric. Disclosed is a key input 10 with a set of keys for inputting material of the laundry. It would have been obvious at the time of the invention to modify Kwon and include a key input device that sets washing courses according to material of the load, as disclosed by Kim, in order to control the washing machine.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
